Elijah Saunders, Wanted for Theft in Sturbridge, Mass., Rounded Up by Good Detective Work-Scouts' Hike -Town Debt Reduced $4,216-Snow Item $652-Change in Train Time-Harvest Supper.

Elijah Saunders, wanted in Stur bridge. Mass, to answer to an alleged charge of theft, was taken from the police station here Saturday morning to Southbridge, in charge of two Mas-sachusetts officers, one representing the Sturbridge force, the other South-

Officers in a number of towns here abouts have been on Saunders' trail ever since the Sturbridge fair. In the meantime he has been staying just over the Rhode Island line, just out-side of the town of Killingly, into which he has ventured from time to time, according to what he considered the odds in his favor as to getting out again without falling into the hands of officers who have been on the look-of officers who have been on the lookout for him.

The fact that he had driven into town, with a fast horse, came from the porthern section of the town, and as quickly as possible two automobile parties made a dash into the section from where he was reported. In one machine was Constable Michael H.
Grimshaw of Attawaugan and Frank A. Whipple, in the other Chief Michael J. Grimshaw of the Danielson force and Officer J. W. Kennedy. The Danielson officer was rushed up through East Killingly in a light automobile, while the Attawaugan men circled around the route being taken by Saunders, who was making a wild by Saunders, who was making a wild drive for the Rhode Island border and safety. He was overtaken in the Bear Hill section, his horse white with la-ther. He was but a short distance from the line when taken. He surrendered without resistance, though he had made some remarks about what he would have done under certain circumstances. He was brought here and locked up and the South-bridge and Sturbridge officers noti-

Saunders will be asked to answer to a charge of alleged theft of a trunk containing the property of a South-bridge woman, formerly a resident of Putnam. The woman's trunk was lacated at the railroad station in Putnam by Captain J. A. Ryan.

SCOUTS' SATURDAY HIKE. Troop in Charge of Scoutmaster Visits Old Furnace.

Scoutmaster Rev. Ernest A. Legg or Saturday gave the members of the Doy Scout troop their first hike over highway, hill and dale as a part of the training and experience that will as-sist them in advancing to the degree of first class scouts.

The Old Furnace, about two miles out of here, was the objective point. Arrived at the picturesque spot, the boys were put through a series of tests, including the methods of making fire and various important essentials in woodcrafs. The first hike was a short one, the idea being to gradually prepare the boys for the harder tests that are to follow. that are to follow

The first tests have been successfully taken by ten scouts, and now there are eight more candidates for honors. Rev. Mr. Legg says all of the boys are taking a great deal of interest in the scout movement.

Work on the Quiet.

This is to be a week of hustling for olitical honors aspirants and those of their supporters who are actively en-gaged in forwarding candidates' inter-ests. It is to be a week of canvassing in which voters will hear all the arguments, pro and con, on the parties represented in the contest and of their candidates, on the license question, the tax rate and numerous other things that enter into election day problems. Outwardly and to date the work going on is being done more cutelle but ing on is being done more quietly, but none the less effectively, than in other years where there has been an unending howl and hullabaloo for weeks in
